

RE-SIZE PANTS

a method for re-sizing pants to fit your fallen heroes chest.

a >SELF_PASSAGE< method

© copyleft by >wronsov< June 2005.

1. get some old pants with too small waist but ok in length.

2. unstash the hems down by the feet.

3. unstash hanks.

4. and more.

5. and back pockets (if they are attached up upon fabric).

6. and unstash the fly.

7. so front looks like this.

8. cut legs so they become slimmer.

9. pin and sew together the legs.

10. pin together the two surplus pieces from legs and sew one side together.

11. into a wedge like this.

12. pin the wedge to the front pieces. let all pieces meet at trouser leg seam junction.

13. sew together so you get something like this.

14. make a hem at top of pants. (if fabric is stretchy put in a non-stretch ribbon)

15. try on the pants. fold half the wedge like this. pin together. but there has to be enough space to get the pants over your hips.

16. make a seam there and then make button holes.

17. and attach buttons so the pants fit.

18. make new pockets in a clever size for what you want to carry. attach.

19. perhaps make some embroidery on back.

20. and you have some smart new pants make you fit for more bravery.